

CALL FOR WORK: THE 2006 LANGSTON HUGHES AFRICAN AMERICAN FILM FESTIVAL

Seeking short form film, video, and multimedia work by and about African-Americans.

Filmmakers, documentary makers, videographers, and multimedia artists -- we call your attention to Seattle's third annual Langston Hughes African American Film Festival, April 23-30, 2006.

Founded in 1972, the Langston Hughes Performing Arts Center is the artistic and cultural hub for Seattle's diverse Central District neighborhood. Named after the famed Harlem Renaissance poet, novelist, playwright and essayist, Langston Hughes strives to become one of Seattle's premier performing arts centers.

Categories: drama, animation, children's/youth films, lesbian/gay, documentary, and art films & videos about African American life and culture, and topics involving the international African Diaspora. Maximum length: 60 minutes or less. Selected pieces will be shown once during 3 days of scheduled programming. Seeking positive images of Blacks, and content suitable for general audiences, including a special screening of films for children. $50 honorarium paid for works selected.

Please send preview copy and $10 submission fee to: LHAFF, Langston Hughes Performing Arts Center, 104 - 17th Avenue South, Seattle, WA 98144. Email: gumbomedia@yahoo.com. Acceptable preview formats: VHS, DVD, CD-ROM. Sorry, but we cannot return submissions; please include a self-addressed, postage paid envelope or other mailer if you would like your work samples returned. Deadline: January 9, 2006.
